

AN INVITATION

About the Atlanta BeltLine and the Westside Trail

The Atlanta BeltLine is a comprehensive transportation and economic development effort that will provide a network of public parks, multi-use trails and transit along a historic 22-mile railroad corridor circling downtown and connecting many neighborhoods directly with each other.

The Westside Trail is a three-mile, 14-foot-wide multi-use trail that will connect Washington Park in the north to Adair Park in the south with connectivity to multiple neighborhoods in between. This historic $43 million investment in southwest Atlanta will create a bicycle-and pedestrian-safe corridor with connections to four schools, four parks, and the future Urban Farm. It will stitch together economic nodes via shared-use trails, trailheads, and access points all while preserving the corridor for future streetcar transit. The design includes lighting, cameras, and ADA-accessible entry points.

On-street parking is available on Allene Avenue, Catherine Street, and Lexington Avenue. For navigation purposes, enter 1076 Allene Avenue SW, Atlanta, 30310.

Groundbreaking of the Westside Trail

Wednesday, Nov. 12, 2014, 10:30 AM

Celebration will take place on the Westside Trail where it intersects Allene Avenue (between Catherine Street and the Urban Farm) in historic Adair Park.

The Westside Trail is made possible through a U.S. DOT TIGER V grant of $18 million, a local match from the Georgia Department of Transportation for $9.5 million, funding from the Atlanta Regional Commission's Transportation Improvement Plan, and ongoing fundraising by the Atlanta BeltLine Partnership. The Atlanta BeltLine is grateful for all of this support, including generous contributions from:
